*Table 6: A very intriguing product - burnt umber in colour and with a deep smokey nose. This is the salt that keeps on giving - the smoked paprika that hugs the large intense flavoured crystals of salt balances so beautifully. The smack of paprika followed by the salt doesn't disappear or go flat - it remains in the mouth offering up spice and gentle heat on a long finish. All of the judges want this ingredient in their kitchens. It is stunning.

*Table 99G: A smokey aroma - completely appealing and looking so pure and evenly spiced. Smoked and sweet, salty and clean with great minerality. We could see this being used for finishing so many dishes - fish and pate, chicken and roast potatoes. Such a versatile, high quality ingredient with a beautiful warm finish.

Table R3: That's some aroma! Crystals designed for grinding but we managed to happily crunch some between our teeth. We concluded that this is in fact a top notch product, well produced and hard to improve.

*Table 4: A beautiful aroma and colour on this natural-looking salt. Sweet, salty, earthy, rich and addictive. The crystals explode with flavour. Wonderful, we're in love.
